BUSINESS MAN.

William Addams, Candidate for Governor, is a Business Man, ---Discussed by Editor Hodgenville Herald.

(From Hodgenville Herald.)

We are informed that Hon. William Addams, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, is a business man of undoubted integrity honest upright in his business dealings, and that he is intellectually equipped to cope with any problem that may present itself in the management of either public or private affairs. It has long been proved that the honest man who is capable of the successful management of his private affairs, is also capable of the successful management of public affairs. The habitual office seeker and professional politician is usually too much absorbed in promoting his own selfish affairs to give the people that full measure of service promised in his oath of office. Kentucky needs a business man in the Governor's chair at Frankfort for a few years. There is a lot of work to be done—a lot of things to undo "Doing" and undoing will keep a business governor busy all the time during his four years term of office. The Herald unhesitatingly says that it believes he will if nominated and elected, give the people of the State a wise, conservative and business administration and he will employ himself constantly in "doing" and "undoing" for betterment of Kentucky. And other things—Mr. Addams can win in November.

The Bank of Rosemont Neb., was entered by robbers and the safe was blown after the third explosion. The robbers made away with $1,500.

Editor News:—

I notice in your paper that all subscribers who are in arrears on the first day of June will be dropped from your list. As I was a subscriber with the first issue of your paper, I don't want to be left out in the cold now. I enclose you check for $2, hoping that amount will keep me in good standing with you until next pay day.

I enjoy reading your paper more than I do my own county papers, because I often, through your paper, hear from my old home in Russell county, and from old friends in different States.

I read a letter a short time ago in your paper, from Eddy, Texas, written by a party who signed his name G. F. C. Now I have seen those initials before. In fact, I learned them when we were school boys together at Moore's school house. Our old school teacher, S. B. Collins, who called the roll every evening for five successive terms, impressed many things on my mind that have been of great value to me.

There are a number of men and women my age, who owe a debt of gratitude to S. B. Collins for his faithful instructions, and the valuable lessons we learned from him as teacher of district No. 44, and his guiding hand as Superintendent of the Moore's school house Sunday School. He was strictly business in the school room, yet at "playtime," as we then called it, he would join the larger boys in a game of marbles or town ball, and he was good at both. Those initials, G. F. C.

recall to my mind a game of town ball that G. F. C. and I got a deal of fun out of: On one side in this game was S. B. Collins and others, and on the other was G. F. C., myself and others. Our side got the bat first, and soon all of our side were out except Fred and myself. Well I could knock a ball in most any direction that I wanted to, and as far as any boy in school, and Fred's favorite ball was a "grass cutter." Behind the school house from the home plate, there is a very large brush pile, there is where S. B. Collins took his position, and there is where I put most of my three baggers and home runs. Collins would stand where he could see the home plate, and if he saw the ball start over the school house, he would run and jump in that big brush pile to catch the ball, or hunt for it if
